Essential Worker Face Masks (EW Masks)

Perfect Solution for Non-Healthcare Frontline Essential Workers

- Grocery Store Employees
- Law Enforcement/Security Guards
- Truck and Delivery Drivers
- Garbage/Refuse Employees
- State and Municipal Employees
- Public Transit Workers
- Retail Employees
- Restaurant Employees
- Office and Non-Frontline Healthcare Employees

Frontline Essential Workers need the extra protection that procedure masks and cloth face coverings do not provide.

Key Differences in Most Popular Mask Types

The 3-ply procedure or surgical mask:

Most common but because of the loose fit, airborne particulates from outside the mask can easily reach the mouth and nose through the gaps on each side. These masks are primarily used to trap particulates from inside the mask expelling into the air through a cough, sneeze, or through talking.

N95 and N99:

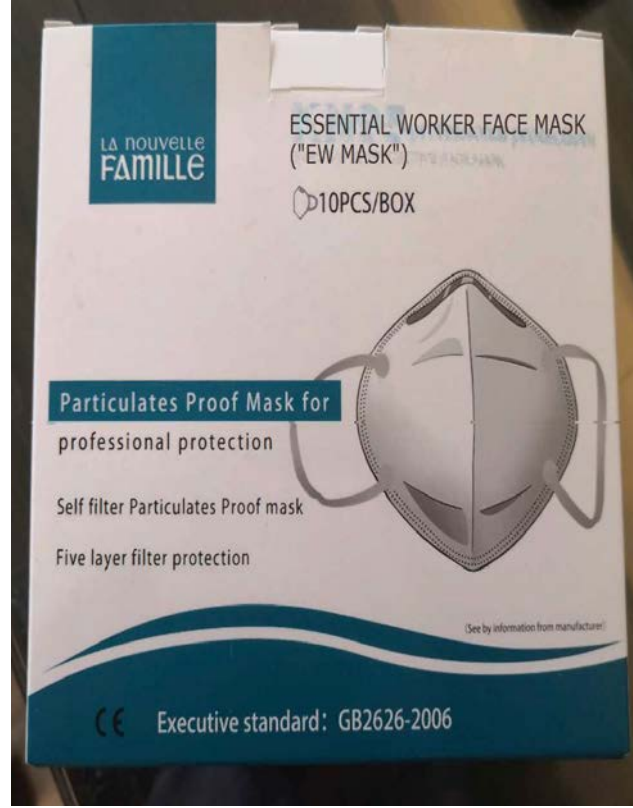

This is the gold standard for protecting the wearer from airborne particulates because of its seal around the face, 4-5 ply filter and elastic head strap. If properly fitted, the person wearing the mask will be protected from up to 99% of all airborne particulates. However, if not fitted properly, the filter will still filter almost all particulates that attempt to penetrate but, as with the procedure mask, particulates can penetrate around the edges of the mask where the seal of the mask to the face is compromised.

Our EW Mask provides the needed protection for non-healthcare frontline essential workers.

Our EW Mask does not have the open areas or gaps that 3-ply procedure masks do. Instead, our EW Mask offers a snug fit, similar to a N95 mask, providing significant protection to the person wearing the mask.
